

Napier Provides Update on Emerald Copper Acquisition

VANCOUVER, BRITISH COLUMBIA (April 5, 2019) – Napier Ventures Inc. (TSX.V: NAP) (“Napier” or the “Company”) today wishes to provide an update with respect to its previously announced agreement with Emerald Copper Corp. (the “Vendor”) and Napier’s potential acquisition of 57 unpatented mining claims (the “Emerald Claims”) in Mohave County, Arizona (the “Acquisition”). As noted in prior disclosure, subsequent to Napier entering into the agreement with the Vendor for the Acquisition, the Vendor became subject to a legal action in United States District Court (the “Court”) in Arizona (the “Action”). The Action was commenced by a prior owner of the Emerald Claims and alleged that it held valid unpatented mining claims which pre-existed and superseded any interest that the Vendor may have in the mineral estate of the ground covered by the Emerald Claims. On March 28, 2019, the Vendor advised Napier that it had received a judgment of the Court finding in the third party’s favour and invalidating any interest that the Vendor purported to have in the Emerald Claims. The Vendor has advised Napier that it is taking advice from counsel in Arizona and is considering its right of appeal. As a result of the Action, Napier has not yet completed the Acquisition and its completion remains uncertain pending the Vendor’s decisions with respect to an appeal. Any completion of the Acquisition remains subject to approval of the TSX Venture Exchange.

Since 2016, Napier has staked an additional 100 unpatented minerals claims on ground surrounding and in the vicinity of the Emerald Claims (the “Staked Claims”). The Staked Claims are not subject to the Action.
